

Lettuce, Friend or foe?

A lot of restaurant insurance policies don't cover food poisoning. That's enough to get anyone sick. 'Lettuce' check yours.

Credit cards. The good. The bad. The liability.

If you get hacked and customer data is stolen, onions won't be the only thing that will make you cry. Cyber liability coverage is a necessity today.

Your errand. Their car. Problem? Maybe.

If your employees' car insurance isn't enough, you could be on the hook if something happens on the clock. It's an easy fix -- just make sure you've got it.

Innocent mistake?

Only your mom cares.

There was a mix up on overtime. Just a mistake, but you're still on the hook. It's a pain. Unless of course you're covered, then it's no big deal.

We can't make insurance go away.

But we can make sure it's working for you.

At Bikelane, we take restaurant insurance very seriously. And we can get a bit geeky about it -- all so you won't have to. Let us make sure you're protected and getting the best deal.

Why do you have insurance if you're afraid to use it?

You pay more for a lower deductible so your premium won't go up--but then you don't use your insurance. How about getting a deductible that makes sense?

The Good News:

Most business closures last less than 72 hours.

The Bad News:

Most loss of income policies don't cover the first 72 hours.

We make sure you're covered from day one.

Are you sure your assets are covered

We get you'd rather be doing pretty much anything other than talking or thinking about insurance. We can't completely solve that, but we can make it worth your while!
